July 16, 2013 (Denver, COLO) – Denver based Messner Reeves LLP announced the opening of offices in Los Angeles and New York City. This is the latest step in the law firm’s ongoing commitment to serving clients with a tremendous wealth of knowledge and boutique style service.

This national presence and the additional resources will allow the firm to provide the most comprehensive service to a wide range of clients including, individual entrepreneurs, privately held business, publicly traded companies, banks, manufacturers, insurance companies and energy firms.

“We currently do a tremendous amount of work in California and New York for clients of all sizes” said Bryant “Corky” Messner, Founding Partner and Chief Executive Officer. “The new offices on both coasts are the logical next step in our commitment to counseling these clients with great personal attention, while at the same time growing our business in these markets.”
